SUPPORTED EMPLOYMENT

Real jobs for real pay for all people with disabilities.

Supported employment helps people with disabilities find jobs that match their talents, interests and abilities in community settings. Through supported employment, people receive ongoing support to succeed at work and can earn wages at or above minimum wage.

Benefits counseling is available and can help you understand how increasing your income affects your benefits.

The many benefits include:

- A sense of identity.
- Being part of the community.
- Earning an income.
- Greater independence.
- Expand social network.
- Feeling more productive.
- Opportunities to learn new skills.
